M. E. CONFERENCE.

THE METHODIST MINISTERS IN PASADENA.

A complete list of the Reverend Gentlemen Present—The Bishop's Reception Wednesday Evening—The Meeting Yesterday and What Was Done.

The twelfth annual session of the Methodist Conference convened in Pasadena Wednesday evening. The new church had been handsomely decorated with cut flowers, and presented an appearance to be remembered by the visiting brothers.

Dr. Bovard of this city presided over the meeting, and opened the evening session with prayer.

Dr. W. A. Spencer, assistant secretary of church extension, when introduced, and after singing several songs, he delivered the address of the evening.

He began by saying that he came 3000 miles to present the cause of church extension to the people of California that he asked permission to come to the coast, and that he had been granted a favorable answer to his request. He said he proposed to make the remarkable offer to the people of Southern California, that for every dollar that they contributed for church extension, they would receive a British sovereign in return.

"In other words, if you raise $4500 for us, we will give you $7000 in return." He said that some people were inclined to take a gloomy view of the future of our church, but that he had the world to continue to do so unless all the noble Methodist preachers concluded to backslide. Continuing he said: "I am glad we are not a church of backsliders. I am glad there is a revival spirit in Methodism today. Last year one hundred and fifty ministers and their wives were received into the church almost, and I hope and pray that we shall soon see the time when we Methodist preachers will be able to lay one million souls upon God's altar as our offering."

"We are here to give fire for Jesus at once; let us all feel the thrill of the mighty power of Christ to save at once, and we will have a million souls for Jesus during 1889. I am proud to say that we are doing more than any other body of Christians. For ten years past we have been building up a church a day. We need our young men to take up the gospel of Christ, and in fifteen years we will have 15,000 new churches. Within the bounds of your conference during the past year we have built up 100 new churches, and we ought to build 100 more in your State in the next year."

After a brief statement of his success in raising funds on the coast and thanking the presiding elder of this conference for the noble assistance he had rendered in his cause, he proceeded to explain his plan for raising funds for the society he had the honor to represent. He was organizing what he called a Royal Army, of which every person could be a member, but pay $40 a year for the cause of church extension. They were expected to continue during life, but could be mustered out at any time by simply sending him a postal card signifying their intention to do so.

Several songs were then sung and men and women were distributed, and over 30 joined the "Royal Army."

President Green introduced Judge Hester of Pasadena. Judge Hester said:

"The pleasant task has been assigned to me of extending to the Bishop, the members of the conference, the hearty welcome to the California Conference the hearty welcome of the Methodists of Pasadena."

"This is the first time in the history of Pasadena Methodism that we have been honored by the presence of this honorable body. We feel proud of this distinction, and show it to the world. Kitherto Pasadena's church has worked among the smaller churches of the conference, and consequently the annual sessions of the conference have been held elsewhere. But today we feel like the little boy with his first pair of shoes, and we are about as big as our bigger brothers."

"Methodism was planted in this place with the first settlement of the ground by Americans, but, until recently, its growth was slow for the reason that the Methodists who settled here and never became here out of whom to make Methodists. But within the last two years, the term of the pastorate of our present efficient pastor, our membership has bounded from a little over 100 in numbers to 1000."

"The Methodists have had to move from the little chapel to this church, and before the paint was fairly hardened on this building we had again to seek larger quarters in the commodious tabernacle over there."

"And we claim that our membership is made up of the cream of the Methodist population, as well as of Pasadena society. They have come from almost every State and Territory in the Union, and some even from the Old World. But they have come with hearts loyal to the doctrines and usages and government of the church established by John Wesley and Francis Asbury—the good old Methodist Episcopal Church. The most of us were cradled in the lap of Methodism in our homes in the East, and we find no difficulty in uniting in the fellowship of the church when we have adopted home in beautiful Pasadena."

"But I must beg pardon for this apparent boastfulness. This is a failing of us of Pasadena who have, whether Methodists or real-estate agents, as you will doubtless learn before we have been with us many days."

"And now I wish to say what I have been delegated to say, and what I should have said before this, that these loyal Methodists of Pasadena are glad to have the privilege of rendering a service to the church and as guests, to our venerable bishop and those brethren of our annual conference. We feel that we are opening our doors to men whose lives are devoted to the grandest work that can engage the human heart and intellect—that of Christianizing the world. No more sacred duty can be given to any man. The class of men exists today than the itinerant ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church, nor any others doing more if as much, to elevate the human race; to spread Christianity and civilization; to disseminate true religion; to attain enlightened education, and to suppress and eradicate private and public vice and immorality."

"I may be prejudiced in my estimate of the Methodist ministry, and in my feelings toward Methodist ministers. I can't help it. I have been a Methodist preacher myself, but I come so near it that I had a father and four brothers in the itinerancy, all in the good old Hoosier State, and a mother who, though not licensed to preach, could talk Methodist to any one. I know something about Methodism, and I believe that Methodist ministers have to live in the East, the privations they have to endure, and the work they have to do."

"And I do not suppose it is any easier preaching the gospel on the coast of California than on the east. The itinerant minister here may not have to go through so much rain and mud, especially in the summer time, as may sometimes sweep in snow in the winter; he may not have to face so many Indians, as we have here, but he has higher mountains to climb, and broader and crisper deserts to cross. He has more pagans to meet, and more pagans inclined to combat, and he has to find food and raiment for himself and his family, as well as the same as for them, he has to find a place to sleep, and to earn his living, and to enable him to go to school, and to pay for his children's education, and to support and eradicate private and public vice and immorality."

"But I am authorized to say this evening that no Methodist preacher in attendance on this session of conference, or his wife, his child, or his horse, shall suffer for want of refreshments to eat. We welcome you to our parlors and to our dining-rooms; and we will find you couches to rest upon at night, provided you can get the mastery of the mosquitoes."

"But I am authorized to say this evening that no Methodist preacher in attendance on this session of conference, or his wife, his child, or his horse, shall suffer for want of refreshments to eat. We welcome you to our parlors and to our dining-rooms; and we will find you couches to rest upon at night, provided you can get the mastery of the mosquitoes."

"I am sending you, members of the Southern California conference, and all visiting brethren, the freedom of our young city—the most beautiful city, as Pasadena thinks, on the Pacific Coast, and as many would dare hope, the future capital of the future State of Southern California. We trust that you, too, will fall in love with the "Crown of the Valley," so that when Dr. Bovard's term is out, three years hence, you will all ask the Bishop to send you to Pasadena."

"Again I say, one and all, a cordial welcome."

The president then introduced Rev. J. B. Green, presiding elder of the Fresno district, who responded to the address of welcome as follows:

"It is a great pleasure to me to respond in behalf of the conference to the hearty welcome of your speaker. We come, Mr. President, and friends from the south and east, and the west, and the north, and the north, if you will allow me that expression. We have stood the shock of a supposed collapse and are continuing to move forward." Mr. Green closed his very interesting remarks by thanking the people of Pasadena for their pool setting and drunken men, was in this respect very agreeable.

As the band marched off from the railroad playing a lively tune, the customary Los Angeles contingent followed, with Judge O'Melveny bearing in the rear. The tent across the way from the pavilion, where D. B. Gray of Anaheim dispenses the "torpid" refreshments in very good style, had no sleep for two nights, and I trust you will attract for His Honor, and he was soon meeting the fair grapes and 14-cent corn stalks in the pavilion with the eye of a true left. Good evening."

The Bishop then retired, and the friends present, after a number of scenes of social intercourse, after which they repaired to their homes, apparently well pleased with the exercises of the evening.

PASADENA.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT AND AN EXCITED MOB.

A Policeman Pursued by Indignant Citizens — Water Supply — City Trustees' Meeting — The La Fonda Rape Case — Persons and Incidents.

PASADENA, Sept. 13. — [Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Late this evening a sudden excitement arose.

A young man, whose name I could not learn, stopped his team near the corner of Colorado and Fair Oaks, just about dark this evening, and leaving the team unhitched, went into a milk-shake stand to indulge in that mild beverage, when Officer Clapper, finding the unhitched team, took possession and started to drive away, when the young man, hearing the departing team, ran out, and springing into the wagon, caught the lines, when the officer began beating him over the head with a large cane he habitually carries, producing very severe wounds on the head and hands of the young fellow. The team was then unhitched and driven east on Colorado street for some distance while the two men were struggling. The team was stopped after some little difficulty. Clapper took the young man to the lock-up from which he was at once taken to the office of Dr. Michael and had his wounds properly dressed. Meanwhile many bystanders had denounced in unmeasured terms what they termed the horrible brutality of the officer, some stating that he struck the man at least a dozen times with his heavy cane, and that it was unnecessary and brutal in the extreme. Quite a crowd collected, and when Clapper returned to his place of duty the crowd held a sort of indignation meeting, and, after a short while, marched off down the street to the City Hall, in which he took refuge, when the now thoroughly excited crowd attempted to break the door in and wreak vengeance on the offending policeman. They tore out the door, and "Tar and feather him!" They established guards all about the Town Hall, front and rear, to keep the officer from escaping, when, at this juncture, Marshal Mundell opportunely arrived and endeavored to still the excited mob. "The crowd cried out to the Marshal to bring out Clapper, or they would break the doors down and do him violence. Mundell ordered the crowd to disperse, and told them he was Marshal of their city, that he would do his duty, and, as they are law-abiding citizens must do their duty and disperse. After some further talk, and the assurance that full inquiry into the matter would be made and full justice done in all particulars the crowd dispersed, having given three cheers for the plucky Marshal. The outcries of the mob, however, had begun to become a serious matter and a disgrace to Pasadena was, by one determined man, completely checked and brought to an end.

CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY.

This society held a meeting and reception last night at the Tabernacle, President M. M. Board of the Southern California University presiding at the anniversary, and Hon. P. M. Green of Pasadena at the reception. Interesting addresses were made during the meeting by W. W. Sprague, secretary of the Board of Extension, Judge Heater of Indiana, Rev. J. B. Green, presiding elder of the Fresno District, and Bishop Bowman.

MINISTERIAL EDUCATION.

The opening regular sermon of the conference was delivered this afternoon by Rev. E. S. Chase of San Diego. This gentleman's excellent and forcible enunciation of this subject was heard with much pleasure by the entire conference.

WATER SUPPLY.

W. U. Masters, president of the Board of Trade, is in receipt of a letter from Judge Benjamin S. Eaton in which Judge Eaton accepts the invitation of the board to grant them his views on the general question of our water supply and make public those views to the citizens of this city at such time and place as may be designated. A public meeting will probably be called at an early date, when all can hear Judge Eaton on this all-important topic, it being one on which the Judge is exceptionally well informed, and it is one in which our people are just now deeply interested.

CITY TRUSTEES.

The Trustees met in regular session yesterday, all the members present save W. W. Webster. The first very material business transacted was the payment of a bill of $42 against the city and in favor of the West Coast Lumber Company, this demand being backed by a threat of suit in case of non-payment.

The resignation of W. W. Webster was reluctantly accepted, but the vacancy created by this resignation was not filled.

Notice of intention to establish the grade of Columbus street was ordered advertised.

On motion of Mr. Turner of the Police Commission, the annual report of that body was adopted by a unanimous vote. This report was mentioned at length in my letter of yesterday.

LA FONDA RAPE CASE.

The examination of Joseph La Fonda, the bogus herb doctor, came off in Judge Terry's court this afternoon, the Judge exercising the statutory privilege of excluding the public from the courtroom when cases of this character are tried.

The proceeding was adjourned.

An unprepossessing young girl of apparently 13 years, recited the story of her wrongs in a halting and disjointed manner, the details of which are totally unfit for publication.

The testimony of the several witnesses for the prosecution was most convincing, while the defense was by frequent interruptions and damning admissions, ruined his case, really convicting himself.

He was held by Judge Terry in default of $200 bail, and was held in the custody of the police for the purpose of abducting the girl for purposes of prostitution, and in default of bail was committed to jail at Los Angeles.

SEWER NEGOTIATIONS.

Messrs. Metcalf and Polley, the respective counsel of the Pacific Sewerage Company and of this city, have been busily engaged in putting into proper form the contract between the city and the said company for the building of the sewers of this city under the West system, the general provisions of which have been already agreed upon by the respective parties. Action will be taken thereon as soon as the contract is put in proper form.

PERSONALS AND INCIDENTALS.

The large brick block to be erected by Bryon Brockway, on East Colorado street, is to be put up by Smith & Grant for $800, the contract having already been awarded. Work will be begun in a very few days, and pushed to an early completion.

Mr. D. M. M. Board and Mrs. J. H. Morris are back from San Barbara.

C. L. Strange, architect, has gone to Riverside on business connected with the new postoffice there.

Mrs. R. J. Mohr and Mrs. Hustedter departed for Pittsburgh yesterday.

S. T. Holly is in the city in the interest of the Holly water-works system.

Among the latest arrivals at the Carlton are: L. S. Simons of San Francisco, Mrs. A. H. Hart of San Bernardino, Rev. M. M. Board, president of the Southern California University, and Dean Matthews of Los Angeles.

The Board of Trade will hold a meeting tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

There are rumors that we are to have a double track for the California Central railway between this city and Los Angeles.

The W. E. T. Club held its regular reception last night at the residence of Mrs. Dexter, on Orange Grove avenue.

Ought to Be Kicked Out

The Republican county candidates, who held a political meeting at San Pedro Wednesday evening, complain that the local manager of the telephone line (who happens to be a narrow-browed Democrat) refused them the privilege of sending to THE TIMES a report of their proceedings.

This is carrying partisanship too far, and the telephone company, which runs its line as a matter of business, and not as a matter of politics, will no doubt come down hard on the master if this almost his position, if the master is brought to their attention. If the charges are proven, the San Pedro central ought to be summarily bounced.

GOOD TEMPLARS.

The District Lodge in Session Yesterday.

The District Lodge of Good Templars convened yesterday in Armory Hall, District Templar W. H. Corwin presiding. After the routine business had been disposed of the following were elected and installed for the ensuing year:

J. W. Sedwick of Pasadena, District Templar.

Miss Eila Bryant of Pasadena, Vice-Templar.

W. H. Corwin of Los Angeles, Past District Templar.

Ivan T. Moore of East Los Angeles, District Secretary.

Muhor Lamb of La Verne, District Councilor.

John Shear of Santa Monica, Treasurer.

Mrs. M. G. Wright of Los Angeles, Superintendent of Juvenile Work.

W. M. Rush of Los Angeles, Marshal.

Miss Mary Young of Santa Monica, Guard.

A. M. Elsworth of Los Angeles, Representative to Grand Lodge.

Carrie Miller of Pasadena, Deputy Marshal.

Mrs. F. H. Marten of Los Angeles, Assistant Secretary.

J. D. Matlock of Los Angeles, Chaplain.

EVENING SESSION.

In the evening a large audience assembled and were addressed by Col. George Babcock and Mrs. M. E. Richardson.

Recitations were given by little Misses Irene Watson and Clara Bingham, and some more were appreciated.

Mr. Thompson gave the humorous recitation of the "Irish Physician" and responded to a hearty encore by reciting "The White and Black Bootblacks."

Excellent music was rendered by Mrs. Pauline Richardson.

The next session of the District Lodge will be held in Pasadena, Tuesday, December 12th, at 10 a.m.

DOES THIS MEAN WILL D. GOULD?

Among the resolutions unanimously adopted were the following:

Resolved, that while we refer with just pride and satisfaction to the great and noble work of our order in this State and throughout the civilized world in promoting the cause of temperance, we deplore the insidious influences and infamous encroachments of the liquor traffic; a work continued through so many years of doubt and opposition with unshaken devotion and courage we lament the fact that the State of California, in this country, is particularly given to the influence of the liquor traffic.

F. Kelly devoted about 40 minutes to the tariff question, and contrasted the tariff question with the general nomination of Democratic nominees for Congress.

J. C. Way closed the meeting with an appeal to the workingmen, and arranged the school question and explained the value of his bill providing for the election of road overseers, as a substitute for their appointment by the Board of Supervisors.

ODD FELLOWS' SPECIAL EDITION.

The TIMES is preparing to issue a special edition upon the important occasion of the coming of the Odd Fellows to Los Angeles next week.

It will be a large paper, containing a several-column descriptive sketch of the order, general, State and local, together with an account of the proceedings, parade, personnel and other doings of the brethren while among us as our guests.

We guarantee a large edition of this issue, making it a specially good number for advertisers to use, as it will bring their notices to the attention of thousands of new readers, both at home and abroad.

Rates for single insertions of display advertisements — pages, half-pages, quarter-pages, columns, half-columns, inches, squares and lines—will be given by application at the counting-room, or will be furnished by the solicitors.

We propose to give our regular advertisers—those faithful and reliable friends who have stood by THE TIMES through thick and thin—the benefit of a circulation at least double that of the regular daily run, without any advance in the schedule rates for single insertions in this special issue.

DEMOCRATIC organs and orators are full of calling attention to the fact that none of the great disasters predicted by a Democratic administration have yet come to pass. It should, however, be remembered that a Republican Senate has stood between the people and disastrous legislation. Recent events in the Southern States and the general drift of Administration policies go to show that under Democratic rule the country is like a city built upon the slopes of a smouldering volcano.

ARRANGEMENTS have finally been completed between the Republican State Central Committee and the Hon. William Williams, by which the latter is to make a general canvass of the State. He will commence next week, fitting engagements in the south that will consume the time up to the 1st of October, after which he will go to the northern part of the State, making between twenty and thirty speeches in all.

ADVICES from Columbus state that the Calif. Fair's exhibit at the Ohio Centennial is a grand success, and has been visited by thousands.

The prohibition metropolis of Pasadena seems determined to enjoy peace, quiet and temperance, even if she has to fight hard for it all the time.

It is a noticeable fact that no free-trade country suffers under a surplus.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE OPERA-HOUSE.—Herrmann continues to draw good houses nightly. The performances are over little groups of interested people stand on the corners ardently discussing the how and why of this or that special trick, which is as easy as it can be—until one tries it.

China hesitates about accepting the new treatise proposed by the United States for the Chinese immigration into the United States. The treaty, negotiated under the Cleveland Administration, was much less stringent than existing agreements between the two countries. Perhaps China, by holding off, hopes to get still more favorable terms from President Cleveland.

It is all very well to shout for "Tippecanoe," but what has that got to do with taxed blankets? asks the Kansas City Star. It has a good deal to do with them, for it means that the friends of protection will see that the tax is not so high as to prevent them from getting a good market for their goods. The Chinese believe that in this country is an embryonic or chaotic condition, and life scarcely safe away from the great centers of population. The widely varying conditions which prevail in a small, thickly-settled country, under semi-despotic rule, and in this vast continent, where every man is thoroughly equal before the law, are not taken into account.

We are moved to these remarks by a perusal of the official report just received by Atty.-Gen. Michener of Indiana, on the organization known as "White Caps," which has, during the past two years, been perpetrating a series of outrages in several counties of that State. The Attorney-General reports the condition of affairs to be not only deplorable but alarming.

These White Caps have openly defied the law for two years past, have driven citizens out of the county and State, and have cruelly whipped men and women until life was nearly extinct.

A large number of bands are now in existence, all, it is believed, in confederation for offense and defense, the result being a reign of terror. Property has so depreciated that it cannot be sold for half its value.

When the President had the anti-Chinese Bill introduced he did it in the hope that the Republicans would compromise themselves in opposition to the bill. Instead of that, however, the Democrats who are in a hole, and they don't exactly see how to get out of it.

It is quite a common thing for San Francisco courts to let off miserable procurers, who traffic in human flesh and blood, under small bonds. Of course the bonds are promptly furnished by their wealthy patrons, and they never show up again. Such practices bring justice into contempt.

Is it possible that Cleveland has been only playing a game of bluff with his campaign contribution? Charman Brice says he has not yet seen anything of the $10,000 check, and he only wishes he might see it, as he badly needs money.

A DEMOCRATIC correspondent of THE TIMES, writing from Pasadena, calls our attention to the fact that the Administration sent a conciliatory message to John Bull, explanatory of the retaliatory tail-twister.

CONTRARY to expectation, Cleveland's trap-wash message did not stampede the Irish; did not break up the Irish-American Republican clubs, and did not scare Edmunds, Sherman and the other Republican Senators.

A knot of red, white and blue ribbons, a bouquet of red, white and blue flowers will make the wearer thereof look pretty any hour between now and October 10th.

A LOW tariff means low prices all around; less money to spend and less to save, and all the Democratic argument in the world can't make it mean anything else.

CANADA announces that it is not going to meddle very much with the fisheries question until after November election. It will have a more statesman-like President than Cleveland to deal with after that, and a statesman is always wiser than the mere politician.

The illness of Judge Thurman is thus commented upon by the Ohio State Journal:

The severe illness of Judge Allen G. Thurman in New York will be regretted by all his friends in this city, regardless of political affiliations. It has been predicted by many that the campaign committees would kill the old Roman by hauling him around the country, and it looks that way. No man was more happy in home and retirement than Thurman. He was a man of the world, both at home and abroad, and above all the society of his wife. Even after the nomination his preference was for being at home in dignified silence, but the boomers would not have it that way. It is to be hoped that the distinguished townsmen will recover and be allowed to spend his remaining days at his home in peace and comfort. It is evident that he will do more public speaking.

THE BOSTON Advertiser states a very apparent fact when it says:

It is a positive danger to the country that a Presidential canvass—at least when it is an administration which is willing to make at sort of mad hinges to secure a continuance of its power.

It is to be hoped that the Senate will be relied upon to act as a break upon the rest of the legislative machinery, which might otherwise get the country into serious difficulties before the present session is over. The Democratic leaders are becoming desperate, as they see their chances of success dwindling away, and would stop at no considerations of public policy for the sake of a temporary advantage.

DEMOCRATIC organs and orators are full of calling attention to the fact that none of the great disasters predicted by a Democratic administration have yet come to pass. It should, however, be remembered that a Republican Senate has stood between the people and disastrous legislation. Recent events in the Southern States and the general drift of Administration policies go to show that under Democratic rule the country is like a city built upon the slopes of a smouldering volcano.

Election of Officers by the Grand Army.

William Warner of Missouri Chosen Commander-in-Chief.

Campfires and Reunions of the Various Organizations.

Other Eastern Tropes—Yellow Fever in Philadelphia—Urgent Need of Nurses in the South—A Democratic Version of the Maine Election.

By Telegraph to The Times.

COLUMBUS (O.), Sept. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The fine display of California products and the Ohio Centennial distract somewhat from the attendance at the numerous reunions of the veterans. Meetings of the various organizations represented were continued today.

The encampment, at a meeting this morning, chose Hon. William Warner of Missouri Commander-in-Chief for the ensuing year.

The new Commander-in-Chief served in the Thirty-third and Fourth regiments of Wisconsin during the war, and is now a member of Congress from the Fifth Missouri District.

Rev. S. G. Updyke of Dakota was chosen Chaplain-in-Chief at the afternoon session, and P. M. Dewitt of Iowa was elected Surgeon-General.

The Committee on Resolutions submitted its report, a part of which referring to pensions is as follows:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this encampment that the time has come when the soldiers and sailors of the war for the preservation of the Union should receive the substantial and merited recognition of this Government by granting them service pensions; and further—

"Resolved, that this encampment favors the presentation to Congress of a bill which shall give to every soldier or sailor who served in the United States Army between April, 1861, and July, 1865, for a period of 60 days or more, a service pension of $3 a month, and to those whose service exceeded 60 days, an additional pension of 1 cent per month for service in excess of that period.

"Your committee also earnestly recommends the preparation of a bill placing the widows of Union soldiers and sailors and marines on the pension list without regard to the time of service or cause of soldier's death. Your committee further reports that we would consider our support of this bill now before Congress, which we proposed and endorsed by the Pension Committee, known as the Disability Pension Bill."

Other resolutions recognize the Sons of Veterans, and the various less important matters. Then it was resolved that "with pride and heartfelt pleasure we place upon record our grateful appreciation of the hearty welcome and most generous hospitality extended to this encampment and the members of the G.A.R. by the citizens of Columbus and by the city and department officials who have freely opened to us the hospitable homes of this beautiful city, allowed us to take entire possession of their city and their Capitol, and whose earnest efforts and boundless hospitality have combined to make this the most successful and as the most numerously-attended encampment our order has yet held."

A special resolution was offered and unanimously adopted appropriating $500 for immediate use in relieving the necessities of members of the organization who are suffering from the yellow fever epidemic in Florida.

Another business session will be held tomorrow. The Signal Corps survivors, including Gov. Folger, survivors of an affair held a meeting. Secretary D. W. Marcy of Boston explained the history and objects of the organization in the East. A resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that members of corps in the western armament committee with the national association of Signal Corps veterans. The officers of this corps, whose duties were in the nature of those of private secretaries to the general officers in the field, were necessarily scattered throughout the armies and have heretofore been unable to hold regular meetings. It has been decided that annual meetings shall hereafter be held at the encampments.

At the headquarters of the Loyal Legion today a general good time was had. At the reception, Gen. George Crook, an enjoyer of the national election, and a member of the Senate chamber, and a number of other regimental, brigade and army reunions were held all over town during the day. Tonight the campfires are still aglow. Anecdotes alternate with patriotic eloquence in entertainments.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

The Returns as Figured Out by the Democracy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The following dispatch was received at the national Democratic headquarters tonight:

PORTLAND (Me.), Sept. 13.

To Calvin S. Brice, Dingley's paper, the Lewiston Journal, claims to have returns from the whole State, giving a Republican plurality of 18,495, or 125,000 in 1884. The Republicans increased their vote 904, the Democrats 2154, making the straight Democratic vote 653 lower [more?] than ever before shown. The total Republican vote was 79,463.

M. H. Broes, Secretary.

LEWISTON (Me.), Sept. 13.—Returns from all towns give Birleigh 79,603, Putnam 61,108, Cushing 29,711, Simonds 970, Republican 18,495. Legislature—Senate, all Republican; House, 123 Republicans, and 25 Democrats.

Light-weight Pugilism.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 13.—The Myers-Needham twenty-round fight for the light-weight championship of the Northwest and $1000 was witnessed by 2000 people, most of whom paid $5 for the privilege. The fight opened with cautious sparring, which predominated throughout. There were no knock-downs or clean blows. The best fighting was done in the eleventh round, when Needham became groggy and Myers hit at will. The referee awarded Myers the fight, points at the close of the twenty-third round. Neither man showed severe punishment.

Old Fellows at Santa Fe.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—One thousand delegates to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Los Angeles visited Santa Fe today, and were entertained by the people here. The chief feature was an elaborate display of fruit from the gardens of the city and vicinity. Every State east of the Rocky Mountains and Canada were represented.

The Greenbackers.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 13.—The National Convention of the Greenback party in session in this city adjourned after having decided to put a national ticket in the field, and passing resolutions against fusion with other parties.

The Georgia Floods.

AUGUSTA (Ga.), Sept. 13.—The damage by the great flood is estimated at $1,000,000. No estimate can be made of damage to farms and crops from Augusta to Savannah, while the country along the river is submerged. Eleven persons have been drowned.

Drowned in the Hudson.

HASTINGS (N. Y.), Sept. 13.—Two men and three ladies were drowned today by the capsizing of a boat in the Hudson River.

YELLOW FEVER.

The Outlook Still Very Gloomy in the South.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Jacksonville says: The weather is damp and chilly. Rumors of doctors being taken sick and many new cases had a depressing effect. Everything wears a most desolate look. Today and tomorrow 80 nurses will arrive from New Orleans, Charleston, Savannah and Atlanta.

The Auxiliary Sanitary Association has sent an address of thanks to the country for the generous aid extended. The Knights Templar have also issued an appeal for aid.

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.), Sept. 13.—Today's report is: New cases, 44; deaths, 4.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—James Patterson, who arrived from Jacksonville on Wednesday, was taken sick today. Physicians think he undoubtedly has yellow fever.

NO SCARE AT NEW YORK.

NURSES NEEDED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Miss Clara Barton received this morning from Col. Southmayd, who left New Orleans Tuesday with 18 nurses, the following telegram: "Dear Dr. Goldenson, I am sent to you to be hanged tomorrow, made a last appeal to the Supreme Court this morning. They presented a petition signed by the mother of the condemned man asking that a writ of mandate be issued to the Sheriff directing him to summon a jury to inquire into Goldenson's sanity, and ordering him not to execute the sentence of death until after such inquiry had been made.

At 2 o'clock the Supreme Court announced its decision and refused to grant the application for a writ of mandate. Chief Justice Searles stated that no one could now interfere to prevent the execution of the death sentence tomorrow except the Governor.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Goldenson appeared at the Governor's office this afternoon to make a last appeal for her son. She found that the Governor had left for San Francisco this morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The attorneys of Alexander Goldenson, who is sentenced to be hanged tomorrow, made a last appeal to the Supreme Court this morning. They presented a petition signed by the mother of the condemned man asking that a writ of mandate be issued to the Sheriff directing him to summon a jury to inquire into Goldenson's sanity, and ordering him not to execute the sentence of death until after such inquiry had been made.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 13.—Mrs. Goldenson appeared at the Governor's office this afternoon to make a last appeal for her son. She found that the Governor had left for San Francisco this morning.

HIS LAST NIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Sheriff McNamee completed tonight all arrangements for the hanging of Alexander Goldenson, Manlio Kelly's slayer. During the early evening the condemned man was utterly indifferent to his fate, and joked as he played checkers or cards with the deputies. At 9 o'clock his mother and brothers called to see him for the last time on earth, and he was greatly affected. The condemned man treated her affectionately, but manifested no great emotion until she was led away moaning, when he flung himself upon his bed, crying bitterly. Half an hour later he was playing cards and again joking with Chief Jailer Rogers and his guard.

TRUSTS ILLEGAL

Important Decision by a San Francisco Judge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The forgoing issue of the Journal of United Labor will contain an editorial by Powdery.

He says that he has received numerous suggestions that he come out for this, and that the other political party. He declines to do so, saying he has no authority over the political position of the Knights, and suggests that he should take up the cause of either the United Labor party or the Union Labor, it would injure the chances of some of the legislative candidates of the Knights in some of the states.

He says that nobody has authority to state what his position is on the subject of protection, and that he will, either before or after election, prepare them for publication.

The workmen watch the election of the Knights as closely as they do their candidates. He also, without naming him, takes occasion to score Secretary Littleton for treason in quitting the Knights to take part in politics. He repels the charge that the order is affected by "dry rot," and asserts that it is doing its great and only work of educating and uplifting the masses.

He Tells His Friends to Vote for Cleveland.

ALBANY (N. Y.), Sept. 13.—Gov. Hill was serenaded at the executive mansion tonight. In his speech he said:

"It is my sincere wish and desire that every Democrat in the State, and particularly every friend of mine, shall vote for Cleveland and Thurman. I also trust that every one who calls himself an Independent and every conservative Republican who believes with us upon the issues of tariff reform will vote for our national ticket, whether he votes for me or not; and while yet if he thinks that he cannot consistently give it, I hope that his objections to me or to any part of our ticket will not prevent his loyal support of our Presidential standard-bearers. Our success in the Nation overthrows all personal consideration."

Preparing for Retaliation.

OTTAWA (Ont.), Sept. 13.—It is understood that J. H. Beemis, general manager of the Pontiac and Pacific Junction Railroad, has formed a syndicate in Paris with a capital of $8,500,000 to complete his line to Sault Ste. Marie, from Penobscot, and to purchase the lease of the North Shore line from Ottawa to Quebec, and second running powers over the line of the R. R. of Canada. He is to be president and J. H. Kirkpatrick of Stanislaus secretary for the ensuing year.

A special resolution was offered and unanimously adopted appropriating $500 for immediate use in relieving the necessities of members of the organization who are suffering from the yellow fever epidemic in Florida.

Another business session will be held tomorrow. The Signal Corps survivors, including Gov. Folger, survivors of an affair held a meeting. Secretary D. W. Meyers Tells a New Story of the Tragedy.

PLACEVILLE, Sept. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] When J. H. Meyers, John Olsen and William Drager, convicted of the murder of John Lowell, appeared in the Superior Court for sentence this morning, counsel for Olsen and Drager moved for a new trial for their clients, producing in support thereof an affidavit made by Meyers since conviction. He says that his former statement as to a conspiracy between the three defendants to murder Lowell was false; that he shot Lowell in the back of the head, then struck him with a gun; that Olsen and Drager, being frightened, agreed to let him go, and Drager, who was riding a couple of horses, got out of the country, and that these horses he was to dispose of himself; that, on leaving, the other horses followed; that he told Olsen and Drager that he killed Lowell by accident, it incorporates them from complicity in the killing.

The most exaggerated and outreagous rumors have gone abroad, we are told, and a large proportion of the people here can scarcely believe that we are going about in such a country as this.

NEW YORK.

THE MOST DOUBLE-DYED PROVINCIAL TOWN

On the Continent—Its Vim and Vigor
Made Up of Western Blood and Brains and Push—What Gotham
Needs in the Shape of Men

CINCINNATI, Aug. 31.—[Special Correspondence of THE TIMES.] It seems that people west of the Rocky Mountains are laboring under the delusion that there are but two regions of country in the United States. One of these is embraced in the comprehensive term New York, and the other is called the Coast. Coast people have an idea that we of the Mississippi Valley are really Gothamites, and are for that excellent reason dead set against us.

Let me exemplify. While at San Francisco last summer I attended a representation of "She" at the Tivoli. The next day, piloted by a select company of the elite of the coast, I went down to Mills's estate, at Mill Valley, in the afternoon we spent a little while drinking wine at a private shop near the railway station, and the conversation turned on the Tivoli production. I ventured to say that it would not take in the East. That while it seemed to be a great success here, it would fail flat in New York and the Mississippi Valley. (By the way, too, my opinion has been corroborated by subsequent events.) I gave my reasons in as convincing a way as I could. But, lo and behold! straightaway I was pounced upon in the most informal manner possible. The gentle Californians carried me, combed me, scraped me all down, one side, then turned me over and ripped me clear up the back. Their principle argument was the assertion that they were as well cultured as the New Yorkers, as well, if not better, able to judge of art, and that I was a mere bore, an iconoclast, yea, the evil one, bent upon going about and seducing everyone to believe that there is no place but New York, and that the country at large is nothing but a bunch of scoundrels. I was told that I was a bore, and that the world would tickle if I dared say in any of the eastern newspapers anything derogatory to the art taste of California. "She" was a success in California, ergo, it must be a success everywhere, and more to that effect, etcetera, etcetera. As soon as the gentlemen were exhausted I was kindly allowed to explain myself. I told them that their conception of New York was a myth. That New York was a certain city in New York State, made up of a few Knickerbockers and a great many western people. That New York was as much a western town as Cleveland or St. Louis, and that if they did not coincide with New York taste they simply did not agree with western taste. Yea, that New York was more provincial than either of the above cities.

Let me quote at large from a recent letter. Said the writer, who was in New York at the time: "I cannot help reaching the conclusion that for provincialism New York is the peer of any city in the world. Not only does it not only takes the cake, but the whole bakery."

In the opinion of the average New Yorker, the rest of the United States is a mere appendage to Manhattan Island. The sceptre of supremacy has long since passed away from New York and followed the star of the empire. New York for the last 30 years has cut a very narrow swath in the affairs of these United States. In statesmanship she has only to offer Seward, the man of many words; Seymour, who called the New York mob who were murdering innocent men, women and children because they were black, 'my friends'; and Tilden, who cleaned out one set of robbers from the Erie Canal only to let another set take possession thereof, is all that New York has to offer, with one exception, in the way of statesmen. They all three were about the caliber of Garfield, neither more nor less. In all the years since Buchanan was rated, Seward, Tilden and Conklin embraced the idea that she has offered to the Nation, who had ability above the grade of ex-President Hayes or of the average common plebe judge of the West, Lincoln, Stanton, Morton the statesman, Chase, the jurist, Sherman the financier, rugged Ben Wade, Logan and all the controlling spirits of the legislative and executive departments of the Government, with the single exception of Seward, did not come from New York, and nearly all came from the West. Grant, Sheridan, Sherman, McPherson and Steedman from Ohio, overtops New York as far as leaders are concerned, as much as she overtops Bayard's pocket-burrough, known on the map as the State of Delaware."

From the day Ft. Sumter was fired on till the day Grover Cleveland was accidentally discovered by Dan Lockwood, New York took third-rate positions in the executive, in Congress, in Cabinet, and on the bench. The last Justice of the Supreme Court was from Ohio, and succeeded a chief justice from Ohio. The strength of that great bench is from the West. One crusty old fellow is the sole representative of New York State thereon for these many years.

While at first blush it seems that New York ought to stand at the head in everything, let us see if a little close examination will bear this out. Take journalism, for instance. At the very mention of the word the Tribune occurs to our mind, and with it Whitelaw Reid. He is editor and part owner of the Tribune; president of the Louis Club, which is composed of journalists and artists; a member of the Union League Club, which is the exponent of Republicanism, and one of the wealthiest and most aristocratic clubs in New York city; and is one of the vice-presidents of the Ohio Society. As you all know, he won the hand of the daughter of your millionaire Mills, who some time ago purchased, for $800,000, the Halliday country residence, one of the most magnificent in the Hudson and formerly owned by Ben Halliday of Overland route fame.

Then there is the great New York World, again managed by a western man, John A. Cockerill, who was born near Cincinnati. Pulitzer, the owner of the largest newspaper property in New York, is another western man, coming from the St. Louis Post Dispatch. The Daily News owes its prosperity largely to the able management of another western man, W. L. Brown, who only a few years ago edited a Youngstown (O.) paper. Then there is William Henry Smith, another western man, general manager of the Associated Press, and J. D. Howard, ditto, once editor of the Ohio State Journal, now connected with Associated Press also.

The largest religious publisher in the United States is Dr. J. K. Funk, at the head of the New York house of Funk & Wagnalls. This establishment is simply a mammoth one, reminding one of Mr. Meeson in Haggard's novel, "Mr. Meeson's Will." But I am glad to say that Dr. Funk, being a western man, does not run his business in exactly the same way as did the aforesaid. No chance there for an authoress to run away, get down on Hergulan Land, have a will tattooed across her back and ipsa facta get probated accordingly. Like every western man, he is generous to his wife. He is the editor of the largest prohibition organ in New York and the United States, the Voice.

In New York art circles western men are the conspicuous ones. Why need I mention J. Q. Ward, Alexander Doyle, J. H. Beard, Harry Beard, James C. Beard, Frank Beard and D. M. Peixotto? All leaders, and all from the West.

Says the writer referred to above: "In bankidg, railroading and merchandising the same holds true. Here is one of the successful business men of New York city, all from the West: Homer Lee, C. C. Shayne, Col. W. L. Strong, Homer Clark, A. D. Juliard, Albert W. Green, W. C. Andrews, and so on ad infinitum."

If I should branch into railroading I could prove to you in the twinkling of an eye that the principal railroad sharks and rolling-stock barons, lords of not a dozen pauper villages, but of dozens of trunk lines, are western men, but I refrain.

Why is this? Nature hath framed strange fellows in her time, but the strangest of all is the Gothamite. A hundred years ago he may have been somebody. I don't know. I wasn't there to see. But if he was, it was in this period of his career that he imbibed that conceit for which he is now so proverbially celebrated. He amassed a few Spanish dollars and became plethoric in proportion. He sat him down and said, "Lo am I not New Yorker and this is not New York—except New York is there any other place?" At first he doubted that there was a West. Said he—and saying it so often he believed it—the sun rises at Hell's Gate and sets in my father's kitchen garden. Fully satisfied with this idea, he took to himself one of those fruitful Knickerbocker gardens in which Washington Irving tells us. He wedged right in his family waxed numerous. He told his olive branches that New York was the world and they needn't go anywhere else. The rising generation stayed at home. Then the war came and New York stayed at home. Men were wanted and New York had them not. The West went into the war, became educated, saw that the country was large, and that only push could persevere in the battle of life. After pushing rebellion to pieces, these western barbarians pushed into New York. They pushed the New Yorker into good clothes and shirt front. As soon as a man develops scrupulousness in clean cuffs and shirt front he degenerates. He fades from business circles and, making a virtue of necessity, he becomes an aristocrat. He said he didn't have to work, and today he sees as a dude and lives off the rent of the structures which western architects and builders put up when he first while his father's cattle pastures.

Thus have the mighty fallen. New York, sir, is the only western town in the East. M. P. A.

We will entirely remove the evil effects of a previous treatment of mercury or iodide of Potash. Patients who have been cured at the expense of other physicians, and now know—in how much as much with mercurial poisoning, will do well to consult us.

YOUNG MEN.

Many young men are given away to follies in their early youth, the evils effects of which are not recognized for years, and sooner or later manifest themselves. Known symptoms present themselves: Dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, forgetfulness, loss of memory, loss of appetite, loss of weight, etc. Let not a sense of false modesty prevent you from seeking relief at once. This may often lead to insanity or death. We will often times lead to insanity or death if the patient has any constitution left.

Young men who consult us for any ailment will be treated "a special" with those experts and success is elicited by few, if any.

NEW YORK, 13.—The action of the St. Paul directors in passing a dividend was the occasion of an excitement in the stock market this morning, the like of which has not been seen since December. The market was not prepared to take the large offering, and material concessions were the rule on the entire active list at the opening. The scare was about over after the first 15 minutes, during which time over 9000 shares changed hands. The market finally closed heavy, at the opening prices.

Government bonds dull but firm.

WESTMINSTER.

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 13.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Westminster is quiet and comfortable, as usual. Two steam threshers and Anderson's feed mill give their signals through the day to indicate that the harvest is in progress, and the summer days of leisure are over. The campers have nearly all left the landing. Hay wagons are passing on all the roads. The next to the last cutting of alfalfa is in progress. Two sets of balers with new machines are putting the haystacks into tight bales for shipment. The crop is large this year and good. Fruit has been in better demand than ever before, for distribution to the Landing, Long Beach and San Pedro. Only apples, pears, peaches, plums, and berries are still on the market.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

The Central W. C. T. U. holds its regular meeting Friday, at 2 p.m., in the Methodist Church South.

The West End Republican Club advertises a big temperance meeting. See "speaking notes" first page.

C. H. Raymond, the foster of bogus checks, was held by Justice Taney for obtaining money under false pretenses.

An alarm of fire was caused about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the burning of a small building on Downey avenue, near Mozart.

A marriage license was yesterday issued to Monroe J. Dye, a native of New York, aged 28, and Laura M. Bell, a native of Illinois, aged 21, both residents of Los Angeles.

The young people of the Fort-Saint-Lucien will give a social in the parlors of the Fort-Saint-Lucien M. E. Church this evening. An interesting programme has been prepared.

A vendor Rousseau, a seller of fruits, was thrown from his wagon at the corner of Beaudry and Bellevue avenues yesterday, and sustained severe contusions about the head and face.

Justice King devoted a couple of hours to the Weyerman examination yesterday, hearing the testimony of Joseph Phillips, George Chinn, and others. The examination was continued until 8 a.m. today.

President Hampshire of the Council was yesterday presented with a Fire Commissioners' badge by Mr. L. N. Breed. The ceremony took place at the Mayor's office. The speeches on both sides were very affecting.

Roy Haines answered in Justice Taney's charge of embezzling $10,500 in milk money from his employer, Mrs. A. French of Vernon. He was held in $200 bail to appear on the 21st for trial.

The Superior Courts did little of public interest yesterday. Judge Gardner handed some private matters. Judge Chinn attended to a couple of minor cases, and Judge O'Malley was in Downey, fixing his fences.

Miss Green, organizer of the W.C.T.U. in the Hawaiian Islands, will be at the meeting of the Central Union today at 3 p.m. in the Southern Methodist Church. She will speak of that work there and will sing in that language.

Several days ago some person left a stove-casting at Kline's clothing store, at the corner of First and Main streets, and as they did not call for it, Mr. Kline had night brought it to his post station, where the owner can get it by calling.

Ah Chow bought a silver watch from a boy for 20 cents, and he paid too much for it. The boy had stolen the timepiece from a man named Threshman, and Ah Chow found himself in the clutches of the law yesterday for receiving stolen property.

Western Union Telegraph Co. No. 4 Court street, for the following persons: Frank C. Hempstead, George A. Dickerson, W. O. Randolph, Miss Lee Browning, William A. Hersen, F. E. Dennison and Joseph Metcalf.

Ulrich, the lunatic captured on Buena Vista, was brought to the police station, and the condition that he has been in for the past three days. The physicians think that he has softening of the brain, and if there is no change today he will be removed to the Sisters' Hospital by his friends.

Miss Verona Baldwin, yesterday applied to Major Wetherby, a postman of the post office here. She said she did not want to be a matron or anything of that sort, but she wanted to wear a star and be a sure-enough officer. His Honor promised to bring the matter before the board at its next regular meeting.

John Fischer, yesterday found an old black-leather pocket-book, which he brought to the police station. It contained a number of papers, among them being a discharge from the United States Army issued to Joseph R. Thompson. The owner can have his property by calling for it at the station.

John Fischer and Phelan captured a dice game back of Wong Chue's place on Negro Alley last evening about 7 o'clock. There were about 15 heathens in the place when Phelan broke in the door, when they scattered like sheep, and all but four got away. The four were brought to the police station, where they put up the usual bail and were released.

Jane Daly, the crazy woman at the County Jail, is a regular terror, and gets worse every day. She tears up everything put into her cell, and yesterday she became so violent that her feet had to be strapped to the floor. She seems to be the fighting variety, and when she has been tried to thrash Deputy Jailer Russell and his assistants. She is the toughest case that has been in the jail for some time.

Many Yap, a Chinaman, was arrested by Oliver Bowan on Sánchez street yesterday afternoon between 2nd and 3rd and locked up on a charge of assault. The Chinaman had evidently been annoyed by some boys, when he singled out one by the name of Andrew Desso and assaulted him with a stick. The boy had not been doing anything, so it could be seen, and the officer took the incident.

There has been some dissatisfaction among the parties interested about the width of the proposed bridges at Seventh and Ninth streets, which is 18 feet, and there has been a movement to try and have the bridge made 20 feet. In this object in view, correspondence has been had with the San Francisco Bridge Company, and a reply was received to the effect that for $4000 additional cost over the 18-foot bridges the company would put up a bridge with a 24-foot roadway, with two sidewalks of six feet each, making the width of 34 feet. It is probable that the additional cost will be made up by subscription among the property-owners whose lands would be benefited, and the larger bridges would be built.

There is general complaint among the people over the six-hour watch, the men claiming that it is breaking them up, and that the service is not improved by it. On the contrary, they say that it has a demoralizing tendency, and that they cannot do as good work under it as under the eight-hour law.

There is also complaint among the candidates for positions on the force who have complied with all the requirements and are up to the standard, over what they claim is unfair discrimination in making appointments. They say that those who are strangers in the city do not comply with the requirements as to height, weight and age, are put on over men who have had their applications on file for months, and a movement is on foot to present a memorial to the commissioners, asking that the law and their own regulations be adhered to.
